

Disability Workshops in Zimba, Livingstone and Kazungula Districts

Disability like many other cross cutting issues needs combined effort to address. There is a lot of misconception surrounding disability even among people in places of influence, many do not understand that Persons with disability equally have Rights and can contribute positively to development once provided with favourable conditions.

It is for this reason Response Network-Z joined hands with other partners, conducting a number of workshops in Zimba, Livingstone and Kazungula districts from 25th March to 30th March to train Social welfare CWACS on Community Based Inclusive Development/Community Based Rehabilitation. The workshops focused on ways of promoting participation of Persons with disabilities in every aspect of their lives. Trainers came from various institutions, Health, education, Non-Governmental Organisation NGOs, Community Development and Social Welfare.

Response Network Senior Facilitation officer- Florence Choongo was among the trainers and participants were equipped with a lot of knowledge and information on various issues such as understanding Disability, Barriers to participation, Human Rights, Management of disability, entrepreneurship and much more.

In the photo, she is facilitating on Disability Management Information Systems-DMIS and Understanding Disability and various models of disability.